WINTERIZING FARM MACHINERY ADVISED

By: Jim Smith, County Agent

It's time to winterize your farm machinery.

With freezing weather coming on, auxiliary motors and sprayers must have water drained to prevent cracking of parts. It's also a good idea to get your machinery in shape to operate next spring.

On auxiliary motors, remove the chaff and dirt from radiator screen and motor block. Drain the crankcase and replace new oil with an approved rust inhibitor. Run the motor several minutes to coat all surfaces with oil. Drain the radiator and flush with a reliable radiator cleaner; then flush the cleaner out with clear water.

Remove spark plugs and lubricate the upper cylinder walls with a rust inhibitor. Turn the motor over several times. Spark plugs should be cleaned, adjusted and oiled before replacing. Drain fuel tank and allow to air dry. Cover the end of the exhaust pipe and breather pipe to prevent moisture from entering. Clean and charge the battery. Store where it won't freeze.

For spray equipment, flush the entire system. Remove all drain plugs, run pump a few minutes and then lift every valve ball while pump is running to release any trapped water. Remove and clean valve balls and nozzles in bucket of oil. Drain old oil from drive end of pump and flush thoroughly with kerosene. Refill pump with new oil to overflowing. Grease and outlet the turn shafts to distribute grease on shafts and bearings. Hang hose up so all water drains out.

On all machinery, clean dirt, stems, and leaves from crevices and from behind shields. Pack all bearings with grease to seal out moisture. Remove belts and canvases and store in a dry rodent-proof container. Apply a rust inhibitor to polished surfaces such as plow moldboards and sieves. Inspect the machinery for broken or bent parts, and plan to repair or replace them during the winter.

LOCAL POSTMASTER URGES EARLY MAILINGS

Postmaster E. LeRoy Smith said today that while the Post Office still has a tremendous job ahead of it, efforts are being re-doubled to deliver all mail on time and in good condition by Christmas Eve. He points out that by taking a little extra care with your Christmas mailings now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones at Christmas time.

He asks for special cooperation to be sure that your return address and the recipients address is plain-numbers, and it is a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages. Parcel Post sizes and weight limitations vary according to destination, Ask about them when you go to the Post Office to buy stamps.

Speaking about stamps, the Postmaster said, "Use three cent postage on all your Christmas cards. This way they will be delivered promptly, and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing you include your name and address on your Christmas card envelopes."

First - Class postage on your Christmas cards enables you to include handwritten messages, thus making your Christmas greeting more personal. By including your name and address on each Christmas card envelope, both you and your friends can keep your mailing lists up to date.

The Postmaster urges that you mail all of your out-of-town Christmas cards and packages immediately, and certainly not later than December 10th. Christmas mail for local addresses should be started on its way at least a week before Christmas.

You can do both yourself and the Post Office a real favor by securing free labels at the Post Office which read "All For Out Of Town Delivery" and "All For Local Delivery." Place these labels on bundles of cards for local addresses and on those for out-of-town destinations.

Try to mail your out-of-town Christmas cards several days in advance of those for local delivery, and those for nearby points should all be mailed by at least a week before Christmas.

The cooperation of all business firms in postponing the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25th is requested.

The Postmaster expressed his thanks for the excellent response to his "Mail Early" appeals to date, but warns, that only by stepping up all mailing of Christmas packages and cards immediately, can the record mail load be processed and delivered on time.

COW SAVED BY TRACTOR

Antioch, Ill.- Arthur Bushing's cow got lost and when Bushing found her, she was stuck in the mire with only her head and 10 inches of her back protruding from the mud. Charles Hartnell, a neighbor, hooked his tractor to boasy and pulled her out.

Carver-Price School News

Hello Readers:

On Wednesday, November 21, grades 4 and 5 conducted assembly which was centered around the Thanksgiving theme. Mrs. Watkins is teacher. At the conclusion of the program, Celestine Chambers, Student Council President, announced and presented five generous baskets for the needy, which were prepared by them. Mrs. Monella J. Price, Supervisor and Principal R. E. Patrick wished the student body a pleasant holiday, remembering the true meaning of the season.

Wednesday, December 5, the "Panthers" play the opening game of the basketball season against Susie Gibson High, of Bedford. The first home game will be played the following evening, December 6, at 7:30 P. M. against R. R. Moton in the gym. The "Jayvies" will play the preliminary game. Keep this date on your calendar and be sure to be here for the initial game and support our team.

The Student Participation Association met on Monday, November 26, at activity period, with the president, Celestine Chambers, presiding. Business discussed was the planning meeting for the State Meeting of the S. P. A. to be held here Friday, January 25, of S. P. A. officers and their sponsors; annual Christmas Party for student body on Friday, December 21; and the Training Meeting to be held in Staunton, Friday, November 30, which our officers will attend. At this meeting a President will be elected.

The Senior Class met on Monday, November 27, at which time reports were made on paper sales, the forthcoming three essays to be presented December 11, the senior photos to be taken December 13.

We close with this thought for the week: "Strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life."

CLIPPER GETS CLIPPED

Kalamazoo, Mich.- A man named Eugene Scott's barber shop was announced, "Give me a haircut and I'll hit you." After getting the cut, the unidentified customer clipped Scott on the nose, saying, "I'm not a lot of barbers in the area." So for giving me a bum haircut and for that, he walked out, saying he was holding his hurt nose—and to be sure.
